If I Were a Butterfly

If I were a butterfly,
I'd flutter through the sky so high,
I'd visit castles in the air,
And wave to birds flying everywhere.

I'd rest upon a fairy's hat,
Then greet a friendly unicorn just like that
I'd sip sweet nectar from rainbow flowers,
And dance in crystal towers.

I'd chase the clouds so soft and white,
And twirl beneath the stars at night.
Every day would be full of fun,
Shining brightly like the morning sun.

If I were a butterfly,
I'd spread my wings and happily fly.
With every flutter I'd laugh and play,
On magical adventures every day.

Tiger, O Tiger!

Deep in the jungle where the tall grass grows,
Walks a creature of majesty from ears to its toes.
Orange and black a fire in the night,
The magnificent tiger, a breath-taking sight.

Prowling so softly, no sound on the ground,
With eyes sharp as arrows, it looks all around.
No two patterns are ever the same,
The king of the jungle, the wild is its name.

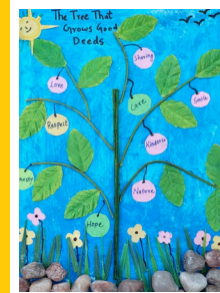

The forest is shrinking, trees disappear,
The roar of the tiger is fading with fear.
Hunted by humans, losing their homes,
Soon there'll be no tigers to roam.

But we are the future, we hear the cry,
We won't let the beauty of the jungle die.
Let's stand-up together and make a big roar,
Let's protect the wild tigers even more.
